This weekend I stayed in S:t Helens and got a lift back and forth to the venue. Saturday I had Robbie Newland in first round and I won with 6-3. Second round I played Gary Anderson, played a solid game and I lost with 6-1 but the scores is not always fare to the game.

After the tournament I was going to watch my first real rugby game between S:t Helens and Leeds

S:t Helens nickname is The Saints and which I liked a lot cause my football team supporters used to be called The blue Saints. Real fun and it is a real tough game for sure. S:t Helens won so everyone went out for a couple of extra pints.

Sunday I drew Steve Brown and we both played a really good game. Lost the game, at 4-4 he was standing at 106 and I on 231. I threw my fourth 180 in the game to leave 51 and put the pressure on him. But this time he didn't miss and I got a bad start in the 10 leg so he won with 6-4. He won the board after that.

Monday time to come back to Sweden after a couple of good weeks of darts and good food and one or two pints. Glad I stayed otherwise I would have been stranded in Sweden because of the volcano ash clouds
